To
former participants and all those interested in the 10th International Nuremberg Forum

Nuremberg, 28 May 2010

The media and religion: an explosive, controversial topic

- How are religions portrayed in the media?
- What is the effect of media portrayal on interreligious relations in our society?
- What opportunities do religions have to present themselves in the media and, through the media, to the public at large?
- What, broadly, is the role of the media in the religions and in religious learning?
- What contribution do religions make to media ethics and media education?

These and other questions will be addressed in the:

10th Nuremberg Forum
Media Power and Religions
The Challenge facing Intercultural Learning

The 10th Nuremberg Forum continues the nearly 30-year tradition of Nuremberg Forums established by Prof. Dr. Johannes Lähnemann, and will be led by Prof. Dr. Manfred L. Pirner, present holder of the Chair for Religious Education, assisted by his predecessor and by Dr. Werner Haußmann.

For the present theme contributions have been invited from representatives of the major religious traditions, experts in the fields of scholarship, politics and education, and especially from those responsible for the public media. As before, workshop activity will involve evidence from research, exchange of information on successful projects, impetus for dialogue as well as cultural-political action, and practical teaching in school and community.

You are warmly invited to attend, and we would ask you to pass on the invitation and enclosed prospectus to anyone who might be interested. Please ask if you require further copies of the flyer. Please register using the registration form on the other side of this sheet. It can also be found on the Forum website at: www.nuernberger-forum.uni-erlangen.de

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Manfred Pirner

Prof. Dr. Johannes Lähnemann

Dr. Werner Haußmann
